

5th November 2005

Five Best: Hi-tech hotels

Cotswold House, England

This is the ultimate weekend retreat for those who think the accessory for head-to-toe tweed is an iPod. Rooms feature complimentary broadband access, the chance to experiment with a bit of mood lighting in the bathroom and a Loewe entertainment system that not only plays music but lets you download digital photos. But the USP must be one of the recently launched Montrose rooms, which offers guests the chance to snooze on a special £14,000 bed. There's no comfy mattress, though - it's made from 10,000 capsules that contour to the shape of your body.

---

The Cotswold House Hotel, The Square, Chipping Campden, Gloucestershire (01386 840330; www.cotswoldhouse.com). Double rooms start at £130, including breakfast